Reliance Money best equity broking house for 2009: D&B

Mumbai: Anil Dhirubhai Ambani Group firm Reliance Money has been adjudged as the best equity broking house for 2009 by research firm Dun & Bradstreet. Besides, R-Money has also bagged the top broker award in the largest e-broking house segment of D&B, the company said in statement on Wednesday. "As an organisation, we constantly endeavour to find innovative methods to provide the highest levels of ease, convenience, cost-effectiveness and security to our customers," Reliance Money MD Sudip Bandyopadhyay said. According to D&B, the objective of the awards was to recognise those broking houses that have led the way in providing customers value-added services with their innovations and delivered superior performance in 2008 amidst the global economic crisis.
